The development of training kit for IUCD service provision

Laerdal responded to the identified need for a portable, affordable, modular training kit for the IUCD training program. The training kit was envisaged to be used for classroom training as well as in facilities for maintenance of IUCD service provision skills.

The Ministry of Health and Family Welfare and leading family planning experts collaborated with Laerdal Global Health to develop a skill trainer and simulator called The Uterus Collection. The Uterus Collection consists of Mama-U and Sister-U and instruments for interval, post abortion and post-partum IUCD training. While Mama-U helps providers train on postpartum IUCD insertion, the Sister- U helps train for vaginal examinations, interval and post-abortion IUCD insertion and removal and also family planning counsellings.

Bimanual examination to identify the right candidate.

Mesh allows for easy visualization of IUCD placement.

Counseling for family planning.

Models are lightweight and portable.

Anatomically realistic, collapsible and portable, the models can be fixed to the table for skills training and can be worn on the body for simulation trainings.

Feedback on prototypes was provided by the MOHFW experts to meet the learning goals of IUCD training.

Extensive testing was conducted with trainers and service providers.
